

RANCH QUEEN WHO SENT TROPHY TO ROOSEVELT.

Miss Agnes Mulhall.

Agnes Mulhall Roped a Wolf and Killed It with Her Stirrup.

Gov. Roosevelt has in the gun room of his Osage Bay residence the handsomely mounted pelt of a gray wolf, which is something unique in the way of a trophy.

It does not represent any achievement of the Governor's own, in hunting. It is not the embodied evidence of anybody's good shooting. It is the result of an unarmed girl's courage, quickness and readiness.

When Col. Roosevelt was in Oklahoma last Fall, before the elections, he was the guest of Col. Zach Mulhall. He heard the story of the wolf's capture, he praised the bravery of the girl hunter, who was the Colonel's daughter, Miss Agnes, and he received the promise of the mounted wolf, as a promise since redeemed.

Back of Col. Mulhall's pasture, comprising 1,000 acres, a band of wolves had established their den, whence they raided the Colonel's herds at will. Notwithstanding the great loss among his cattle Mulhall issued orders that no one was to hunt the wolves, as he wished to preserve them for friends in the East, who had arranged for a hunting expedition in the Territory this winter. The man was being religiously obeyed.

WIFE SUFFERED TO AVOID FAMILY SCANDAL.

Mrs. Joseph Guttentag Sues Her Husband, Alleging Five Years of Abuse.

Joseph Guttentag, son of Samuel Guttentag, a Harlem oculist, was served with a summons yesterday, notifying him that his handsome young wife, Mary Drennen Guttentag, has sued him for separation and alimony. In her sworn statement before Justice Leventritt, the wife alleges that Guttentag, who is a prosperous real-estate broker, has neglected her and their three children that many times in the last year they have been in want of food. It was no easy matter to serve the summons on Guttentag. Mrs. Guttentag was penniless and could not afford the expense of a process server. She would have served the summons herself, but feared that he would do her bodily harm. The papers were served on the husband yesterday morning by Mrs. Guttentag, a friend of the wife. Mrs. Guttentag took her stand in front of the Guttentag residence at No. 18 West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, early, and shortly after 1 o'clock Guttentag appeared. When he saw Mrs. Guttentag he called to her: "I suppose that woman has sent for me."

MRS. MARY GUTTENTAG.

For answer Mrs. Guttentag stepped forward and handed him the court summons. Guttentag paid. "You don't suppose she will go to this extreme do you?" he asked, after reading the charges made against him by the wife. "She accuses me of pretty nearly every crime in this."

Religious differences are said to have been the original cause of disagreement between the husband and wife. Guttentag's mother opposed her son's marriage because of the religious belief of the Drennen family. She and her daughters have never been reconciled to the marriage.

YOUNG MAN DEAD IN BED.

Dies from Hemorrhage of Lungs—His Name Not Known.

About a week ago a young man rented a furnished room from Annie Johnson at 215 East Twenty-fourth street. The Johnson woman knew nothing about him.

As she had not seen him for several days she went to his room last night and found him dead in bed. She summoned an ambulance from Bellevue and when the doctor arrived he said that the young man had evidently been dead for about three days, and that the cause of his death was a hemorrhage of the lungs. He was taken to the Morgue.

There was nothing among his effects that would serve to identify him. He had given no name, and was known only as Jack.

He was 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighed 160 pounds, had black hair, brown eyes, and about twenty-nine years old, and wore a dark brown suit.

FUGITIVE IN CUBA WANTED.

Gov. Pingree Makes First Requisition on Island for a Prisoner.

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 25.—Gov. Pingree has issued a requisition on the Governor-General of Cuba for Charles James Thompson, who is wanted in Detroit on a charge of forgery.

This is to be the first requisition on Cuba ever issued.

A legal fight and test of constitutional questions is looked for in connection with the matter.

Twentieth Century Number of the Sunday World. Out next Sunday. Illustrated in color and black. The greatest list of special contributors ever appearing in any newspaper or magazine. Order at once copy from advertiser.

$100. TWO GOLD MEDALS $100. TWO GOLD MEDALS $100. TWO BRASS CRADLES $100. TWO BRASS CRADLES $100.

FIRST BABIES OF THE 20TH CENTURY

AND FIRST MARRIED COUPLE WILL GET EVENING WORLD PRIZES.

A handsome Gold Medal and a Brass Cradle for the FIRST BOY BABY born after mid-night Dec. 31, in Greater New York.

An elegant Gold Medal and a Brass Cradle for the FIRST GIRL BABY born after mid-night Dec. 31, in Greater New York.

The Evening World will give a handsome gold medal, suitably inscribed, and an elegant brass cradle to the first boy baby of the twentieth century born within the limits of Greater New York.

It will be certainly an unusual distinction to begin with, to have been favored by Father Time with the honor of being the first of the new century's babies to come down from heaven across the bridge of flowers which the poet Aldrich so beautifully described. And The Evening World's gold medal and brass cradle will give this honor and distinction substantial, elegant and enduring shape.

It will be the first honors won by the boy, and before the new century has gone half its distance it may be that he will have added others and greater. Who knows but what this first boy of the century may come to be the first citizen of the land, the President of these United States?

Anyhow he will get a gold medal at the very beginning of his career from The Evening World.

The only condition is that the certificate of birth in each competing case bears the signatures of attending physician or midwife of one parent and one other person present at the birth.

As the contest may resolve itself down to a matter of seconds, each certificate should have besides the date the hour, minute and, if possible, second when the birth took place.

The certificate is to be sent to "Twentieth Century Baby Editor, Evening World, P.O. Box 2,384, New York City."

The money will help the twentieth century couple to begin housekeeping. It will buy a parlor suit, elegant carpets, beautiful ornaments or most any other thing the happy bride may fancy.

The condition required of each competing couple is that the exact hour, minute and second when the ceremony is over and the couple have been pronounced man and wife shall be certified to by the officiating clergyman, Justice of the Peace, Alderman or other person authorized by law to unite persons in marriage. This certification must be in writing and signed by the clergyman or official. Entry claim made will be verified by The Evening World before awarding the prize.

Send certificate to Twentieth Century Wedding Editor, Evening World, P.O. Box 2,384, New York City.

The money will help the twentieth century couple to begin housekeeping. It will buy a parlor suit, elegant carpets, beautiful ornaments or most any other thing the happy bride may fancy.

The condition required of each competing couple is that the exact hour, minute and second when the ceremony is over and the couple have been pronounced man and wife shall be certified to by the officiating clergyman, Justice of the Peace, Alderman or other person authorized by law to unite persons in marriage. This certification must be in writing and signed by the clergyman or official. Entry claim made will be verified by The Evening World before awarding the prize.

Send certificate to Twentieth Century Wedding Editor, Evening World, P.O. Box 2,384, New York City.

PERRY TIFFANY IS BANKRUPT, HE SAYS.

BEGS FOR JAIL TO GET A MEAL

Mary Grady the First of Twenty-five Xmas Prisoners in Court.

"Send me to jail, Your Honor. I will be sure of a good meal there," pleaded Mary Grady with Magistrate Deuel in the Centre Street Court this morning.

Mary, who sells pencils, was the first in the line of "disorderlies" arraigned today.

Mary got her wish. The Magistrate committed her for ten days.

Next in line was a very dapper individual. A monocle hung from his neck on a silken cord and he was clad in evening dress. He gave the name of John H. Getty. A policeman found him helplessly drunk on Broadway last night.

"He had $1,000 in his pocket," said the policeman, "and I took him in for safekeeping."

The next seven in line were clerks in downtown stores. All were suffering from the effects of too much Christmas.

And so it was all morning. Altogether twenty-five offenders were disposed of. Five of the twenty-five will eat their Christmas dinner in the Tombs. The others were discharged.

Over in the Tombs the 406 prisoners spent the morning listening to singing by prison musicians. The Rev. John Munro, chaplain of the Tombs, preached a sermon.

Each of the prisoners was given a poultry dinner. More than 600 pounds of turkey and 500 pounds of chicken were served during the afternoon. A number of ladies prominent in church work entertained the inmates with songs and recitations.

Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, awaiting a trial for the murder of Billy Reynolds, took no apparent interest in the entertainment. Kennedy received a visit from his wife.

Lawyer Patrick had no visitors. If he ever had any friends he is deserted by all now. He spent the day smoking and reading.

HIT WIFE WITH A GOOSE.

Loughlin Used Fowl as a Weapon and Was Arrested.

Because his wife bought a goose instead of two ducks for their Christmas dinner John Loughlin, thirty-four, of 75 York street, Brooklyn, struck her with the goose last night and gave her a black eye. Mrs. Loughlin, with their six sons, ranging in age from sixteen years to three months, was in the Adams Street Court this morning to press the charge.

Mrs. Loughlin told Magistrate Brann that she shopped late last night. She bought a goose for $1.12, because it cost less than the two ducks her husband wanted.

There was trouble when she took the goose home, and at 1:30 A. M. Mrs. Loughlin ran into the street after a policeman.

Loughlin was put under $100 bonds to keep the peace in his house for six months and left court with his wife and brood of geese in close attendance.

SIAMESE PRINCE IN RUSSIA.

On a Pleasure Trip, but May Transact Some Official Business.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 25.—Crown Prince Cowfa Maha Vajiravaj of Siam has arrived here from the west.

Prince Cowfa is the eldest son of the second Queen of Siam, and was proclaimed heir to the throne on Jan. 17, 1880. Two months later he was formally invested with his rank and title at the Siamese Legation in London.

After that he finished his schooling in England and recently has travelled considerably.

He is a young man barely of age, of considerable promise as a diplomat.

The purpose of his visit to Russia is not stated, except that he may transact a little official business while on a pleasure trip.

MERRY CHRISTMAS OVER CURE OF NETTIE ROSCH.

NETTIE ROSCH AND HER BABY SISTER.

She Had Been a Cripple for Many Years, but Can Now Walk.

Limbs for nearly eleven years, in at last able to walk.

Her case attracted wide attention in the medical world, and many times it was feared the child would die. She was treated by eminent specialists, but to no avail. Five months ago Dr. T. W. Topham, of Brooklyn, became interested in the case, and took the girl to his house. He gave her electrical treatment only, and she began rapidly to recover until, just before Christmas, she was able to walk. She returned home for the holidays, but will go back to Brooklyn and remain there until the doctor considers her cure complete.

SINGING DAUGHTER OF ANNIE MYERS.

Miss Grace Is a Pretty Recruit to Francis Wilson's Opera Company.

Grace Orr Myers, the pretty daughter of Annie Myers, is among the latest recruits to the light opera stage. She has recently joined Francis Wilson's company and bids fair to become as great a favorite as was her sweet-singing mother, the former star of the McCull and Casino companies. Miss Grace is only eighteen years old and has been on the stage less than two years, but she has sung in fourteen different operas. Her debut was made in San Francisco. Her greatest success has been in the role of Mignon in "Wanderer," a part made famous by Della Fox and Edna Wallace Hopper.

WHISKEY UPSET THEATRE.

Bottle Passed About Gallery and Police Were Called.

A hoodlum with a bottle of whiskey, which he circulated through the gallery of the Star Theatre, in Brooklyn, last night, nearly broke up the show. The whole gallery grew so hilarious that Special Officer Blanton made a raid on it. He caught Thomas O'Brien, twenty-two years old, of 131 Twenty-eighth street, Brooklyn, and took him to the station as a prisoner in the Adams Street Court. O'Brien denied passing the whiskey bottle, but was held for examination on Friday.

DIDN'T LOOK: ATE POISON.

Mrs. Frank, Who Thought It Medicine, Is Now Dead.

Mrs. Sarah Frank, sixty years old, who lived at 578 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, with two sons and a daughter, took paris green today, mistaking it for horseradish powder. She died shortly afterward in great pain.

Mrs. Frank had gone to a closet and taken the box of paris green, which was the gift of the box that held the horseradish. Without looking closely at it she swallowed the powder.

Dr. Lucas gave the sufferer an emetic, but Mrs. Frank's heart was weak, and though the poison was removed she died.

Society Man Declares Himself Insolvent, Although Regarded Rich.

The petition in bankruptcy of Perry Tiffany, who married a daughter of Theodore Havemeyer, the millionaire sugar king, and who was supposed to be one of the rich young men of the city, has created universal surprise among the exclusive set in which he moved.

Mr. Tiffany is the grandson of Commodore Perry, of the United States Navy.

He says he owes $53,897, with assets of $64,300. Mr. Tiffany is not in business at present. He does not live with his wife, but occupies bachelor apartments at 152 Madison avenue.

His assets consist mostly of stock of the Metropolitan Register Company, par value $25,000; stock of the Bonita Mining Company, value $15,000, and shares of the Sterling Supply and Manufacturing Company, of which he was once Vice-President.

Of his liabilities $41,69 is secured and $12,207 unsecured. Accommodation paper for $25,000 indorsed by Mr. Tiffany, O. H. Belmont and J. Henry Gamon is held by the Knickerbocker Trust Company, but it is said that the parties to the note may have a claim to it in place of the company.

Mr. Tiffany has a long list of personal debts, as follows:

For Books	$2.00
Hats	100.00
Clothes	100.00
Flowers	25.00
Wine	25.00
Restaurants	100.00
Theatre tickets	100.00
Jewelry	25.00
Waldorf-Astoria	100.00
Delmonico	100.00
Hoffman House	100.00
Central Park Casino	100.00

In 1893 Mr. Tiffany married the fourth daughter of Theodore Havemeyer, Mrs. Perry Tiffany. For several years the couple lived happily, then there were rumors of divorce. In 1897 a daughter was born at the Havemeyer Summer home at Newport.

Later Benjamin, the First National Bank of Hoboken sued Mr. Tiffany on a note for $100, and secured judgment. He was in Europe at the time and his friends said he had forgotten about owing the bank.

When he had been sued before, and created some talk when a cab-driver had him arrested for assault.

CLUBBED AFTER BEING ROBBED.

Romei Says Two Policemen Beat Him Brutally.

he mentally that the policemen had beaten him with their night sticks. He said if given time he could furnish witnesses to the attack.

On the charge against Romei he was held in hall of $100 for examination to-morrow to give him an opportunity to produce his witnesses as to the alleged police attack.

The two policemen arraigning Romei denied having struck their prisoner.

About 4 o'clock this morning Romei was being paroled through Ninety-seventh street, near Third avenue, and was set upon by a crowd of colored men, who after throwing him to the pavement went through his pockets and robbed him of about $100. He says he fired four shots at one of the negroes in self-defense.

The policemen declared they were standing at Ninety-seventh street and Third avenue, when Ninety-seventh street on the sidewalk, they saw a crowd scuffling. They ran to the scene and as they drew near they saw a man, whom they later arrested as Romei, start out of the crowd on the sidewalk, and run in under the elevated railroad structure. He dropped down on his knees behind one of the pillars of the structure, and an instant later fired four shots into the crowd. They say he resisted arrest.

BANK SHARP BAXTER FREE.

Released from Montreal Prison Because of Ill Health.

MONTREAL, Dec. 25.—James Baxter, formerly of Chicago and lately of New York, who was sentenced here some time ago to five years in the penitentiary for his connection with the Banque Vill Marie frauds, has been released on conditional pardon.

His wife and friends have been working incessantly for his pardon because of his ill health. He is suffering from dropsy and his condition is serious.

No Ice for Skating Rinks.

The skating rinks which were to have been held at Verona Lake, Montreal, N. J., to-day are postponed until New Year's Day. The ice was unfit for the first day to take place.

LONGEVITY IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

By Dr. Lappol, surgeon to the Pope. See Twentieth Century Number of the Sunday World, next Sunday.

DR. LAPPOL.

By Dr. Lappol, surgeon to the Pope. See Twentieth Century Number of the Sunday World, next Sunday.